

"It's that simple, that innocent, that scary"

Simple and innocent are terms that seem all too mild for the gravity of this type of industry, but it really is that simple. Although, the not so innocent part doesn't surface until later. More time than not, these victims are normal everyday people with normal everyday problems when a "friend" comes to them with an offer that almost no one can refuse.

How would you like to make more money than you could possibly imagine?

In Alabama the Interstate 20 Corridor is a HIGHLY ACTIVE hot spot

What do they look like?

Some signs may be obvious such as physical and/or emotional abuse.

What do I do?

The goal is to treat this patient no different than you would any other. However, there will be some unique challenges that the EMS provider must be prepared for.

How will they act?
